Training. Both the dog and the owner will receive the training indicated in this Agreement. The dog will be trained to perform as shown by demonstration at the conclusion of the boarding/day/private lesson training. Included in the boarding/day training program shall be follow up training sessions with the owner following the dog's boarding/day training. The owner understands and agrees that they have responsibility to cooperate fully in completing the owner training sessions, and that the trainer cannot and does not assume or accept responsibility for the behavior or performance of the dog after it has been returned to the owner. The dog is welcome to drop in for two refresher visits during regular daycare visits in order for the trainer to reinforce any specific area of training.

*Occasionally, some training activities will take place in the facility parking lot or offsite in order to expose the dog to more distractions. If you do not consent to offsite training, you must notify Central Park Dog Daycare in writing prior to the program start date.

Expectations. Owner understands and agrees that genetics and environmental history (e.g. past experiences, lack of training, nutrition, health, etc.) will affect the dog's behavior. Owner understands and agrees that training may not be able to cure aggression, and assumes all risks associated with owning and harboring a dog that may be aggressive. Owner agrees to maintain the dog's training after the board and training is complete. I understand that because the training of a dog is a dynamic process not fully in the control of any party, there are no guarantees of any specific result, and there will be no refunds for this training.

Medical Problems. If the dog shows evidence of a medical problem while under the care and control of trainer, the facility shall have the right to take such measures as it deems necessary for the health and safety of the dog, without being liable for the cost of the same or to the owner in relation to results thereof, including the right to administer medication or obtain an evaluation and treatment by a vet of facilities choice. Reasonable attempts will be made to contact owner, and/or the Vet designated by the owner, above, for further instructions. In the event that the owner or designated Vet cannot be contacted, a Vet selected by the facility may provide such emergency medical treatment as is deemed necessary to preserve the life and health of the dog. Owner shall pay cost of all treatment provided for in this paragraph, in addition to the contract price, prior to the dog being picked up by the owner and the delivery of the dog, by trainer, to the owner.

Liability. Trainer agrees that, while the dog is on its premises and under its control for daycare boarding or training, trainer will exercise due and appropriate diligence and care to protect the health and safety of the dog. However owner agrees that trainer has no liability for loss or damage to the dog or owners other property resulting from fire, disease, illness, virus, escape, theft, death or other unavoidable causes, in spite of due care. After the dog has been returned to the owner by trainer, and is off trainer's premises, trainer cannot and does not accept any responsibility for the illness, injury or death of the dog or of any person or animal, or damage to any property, caused by the dog or resulting from its activity.

Termination. In the event that training is disrupted, with no reason communicated to Central Park Dog Daycare from the client for more than a ten (10) day period, Central Park Dog Daycare reserves the right to terminate the contract. If training, for any reason, needs to be put on hold, it is the client's responsibility to make arrangements with Central Park Dog Daycare.

Abandonment. If, at the completion of the agreed training time, the dog is not picked up by the owner and payment of all charges made in full, including applicable medical, Vet or boarding charges as provided herein, the facility shall notify owner by certified mail at the address shown above that the dog will be held for an additional ten days following the date of the mailing notice. At the end of the ten day period, if there is no response from owner, the dog may be sold at public or private sale. The proceeds of such sale shall be first applied to the charges of trainer and the balance, if any, shall be returned to the owner at the address shown above. Owner shall be charged Central Park Dog Daycare's daily boarding rate of forty-five ($45.00) per day for any additional boarding days following notice to the owner.

Representations. Owner represents that owner is the legal owner of the dog; that the dog is free and clear of any mortgage or other encumbrances; that the dog has not been exposed to Distemper, Rabies, Parvo or any upper respiratory virus within the last thirty days; that the dog has been inoculated as shown above and that owner has read this agreement in its entirety.

Payments. Payments may be made in the form of check, cash, or credit card. The non-refundable deposit for all training programs is 50% of the program price. The balance will be due on the date of drop off for training or on the first day of a private lesson program. Payments hold a place in the schedule and facility of Central Park Dog Daycare to provide these services in lieu of taking other dogs; therefore any payments (including deposits) are non-refundable. In the event of a cancellation within 48 hours of drop-off time, all fees become immediately due in full due to Central Park Dog Daycare being unable to fill that dog's reserved place in their schedule and facility. Overdue amounts, including bounced payments or chargebacks, will be assessed a late payment charge at a monthly rate of 1.5% or the maximum provided by law, whichever is less. Facility shall have the right to recover expenses including collection costs and reasonable attorney's fees incurred in collecting overdue amounts.

Legal Terms. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable, the validity, legality, or enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement shall not in any way be affected or impaired. The failure of either party to exercise in any respect any right provided for herein shall not be deemed a waiver of any right hereunder. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties and supersedes all prior or contemporaneous written or oral agreements between them or any of their affiliates,
